"Shawn, what are you wearing?"
asked Theodore.

"I wanted everyone to think I'm from the future," said Shawn.

“Really...”

Theodore then turned his attention to you, our gentle reader, "We wanted to take this opportunity to tell you about ourselves and our stories."

Shawn continued, "Yes! You probably don't even know who we are. My name is Shawn, and I'm a mottled brown lion headed rabbit!"

“And my name is Theodore. I’m a white dwarf rabbit,” said Theodore.

Shawn said, "As you get to know us, y Theodore is a stick in the mud."

“Our stories are all about how we met, what we learned, and how we grew,” continued Theodore.

“We became best friends and superheroes!” declared Shawn.

“Bunnies are pretty amazing, but we still make mistakes and we always learn from them,” admitted Shawn.

“In the first story, you will learn how we became best friends,” said Theodore.

Shawn continued, “Yes, we got into a big fight but then apologized to each other.”

“Yes, I was happy when we made up, and we really get along great together,” said Shawn.

“Our second story is about a porcupine that calls herself Queen Quill, who stole all the carrots in the world!” said Shawn, “Bunnies don’t steal.”

Theodore continued, "Yes! We foiled her plans! We also see her sad and then suddenly turn mad."

“That was very strange, and maybe we will find out why in a future story,” explained Shawn.

“That’s right, Shawn,” continued Theodore, “Sometimes we don’t get all the answers that we want, when we want them.”

“In our third story,” continued Shawn, “I have to go to the doctor, but I’m scared because of all the stories I’ve heard... but it turns out it wasn’t a big deal.”

Theodore continued, “And in our fourth and fifth stories, we will learn a little bit about politics and law and lobbying.”

“Yes! I had never been to Washington before and I got to meet the president!” exclaimed Shawn.

“All the pictures of our adventures are created by very large computers that we don’t have in our world,” explained Theodore.

Theodore and Shawn walked over to the town square.

Theodore said, "Our stories are light hearted and fun!"

And Shawn continued, "Yes, because bunnies are lighthearted and fun!"

“By the way, Shawn is a musician, so maybe we will release some songs too,” bragged Theodore.

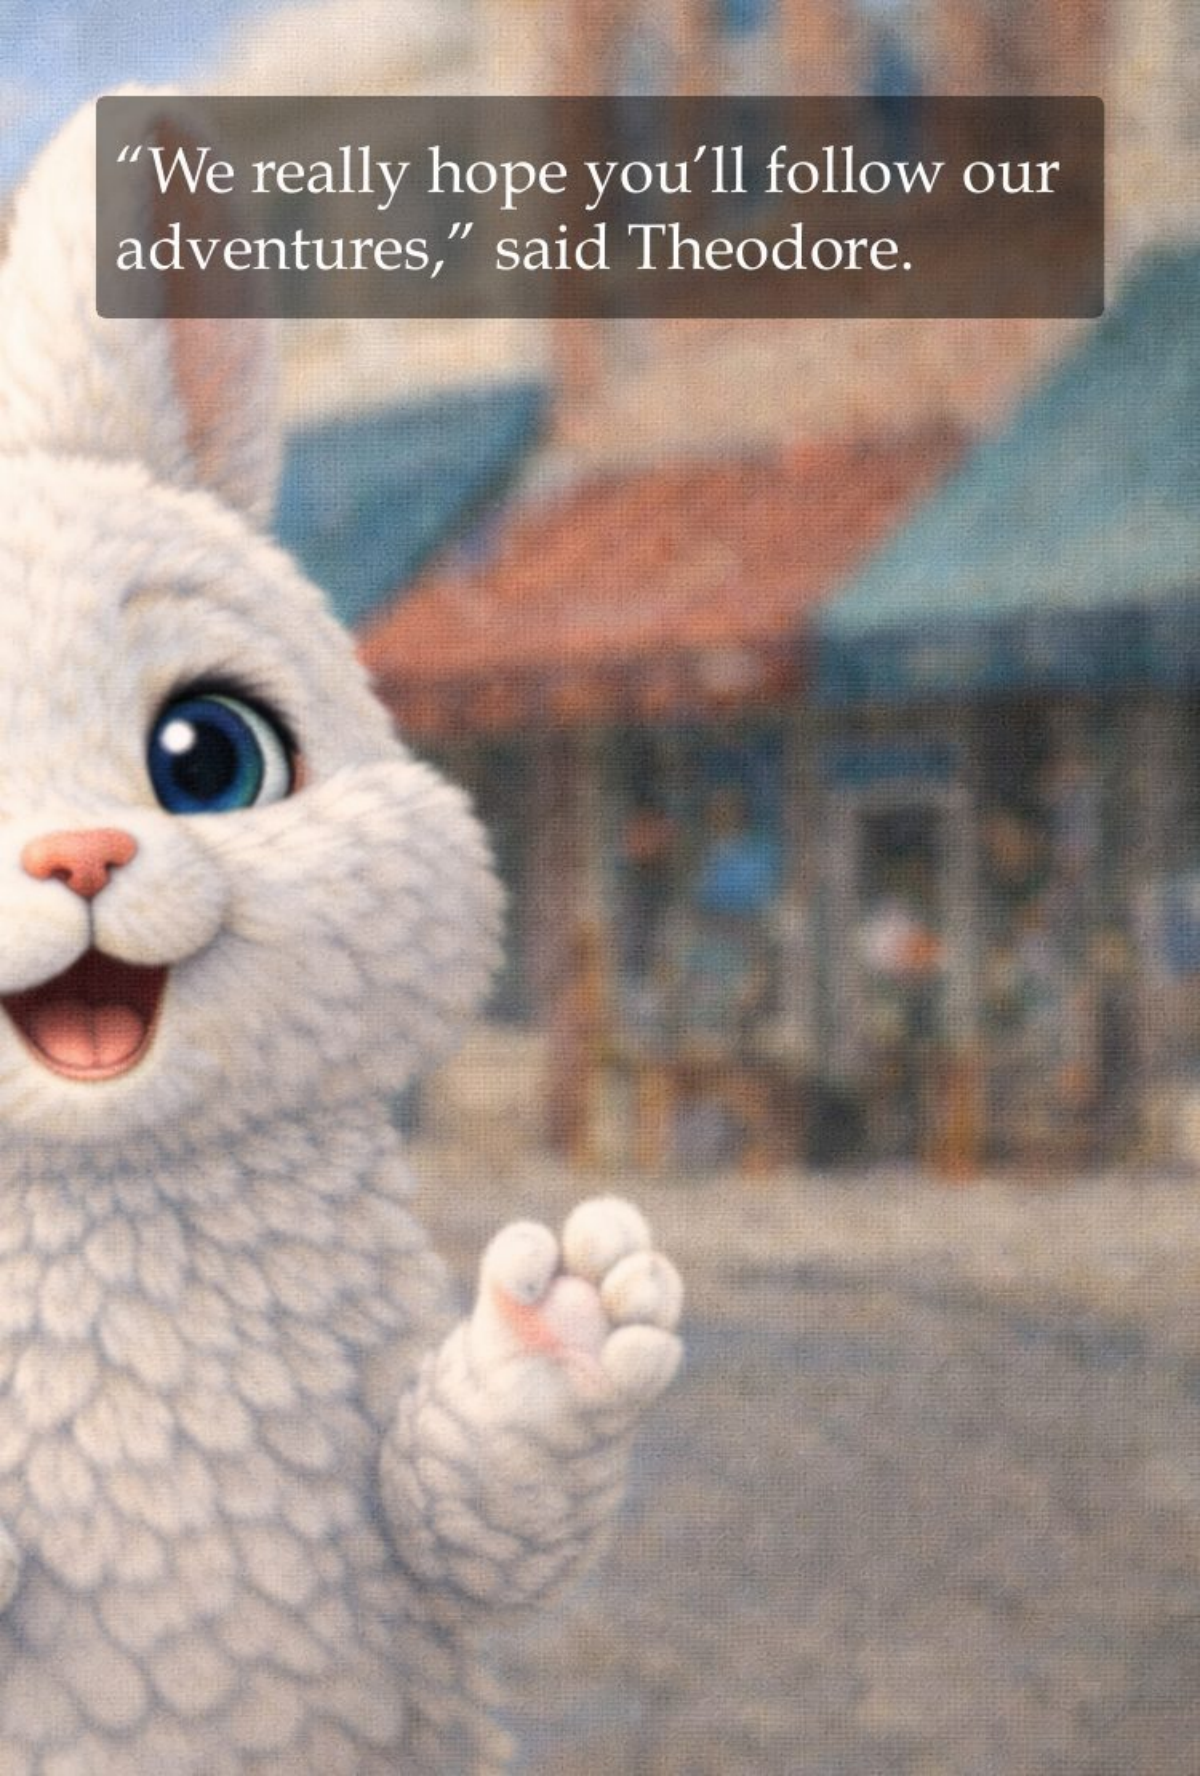

Shawn, “I do like making music, but I’m just learning.”

“We really hope you’ll follow our adventures,” said Theodore.

“Yes, we would – there is so much we want to share,” said Shawn.

The background of the image is a soft-focus photograph of a park. In the foreground, there's a paved path. To the left, there are some colorful flowers. In the middle ground, there are several green trees and a green park bench. In the far background, a small yellow building with a red roof is visible under a blue sky with some clouds.

Theodore and Shawn are the two best bunnies in the world — and there are a lot of bunnies.

They are sweet, friendly, and they definitely love their hay, carrots, and kale.

This book series was written to share the kind of life lessons that shouldn't be forgotten. There are many wonderful books out there, and we're simply adding our voice to the conversation.

Our hope is that these stories spark curiosity, courage, and a small flame that grows into strong leaders.

We're praying for you!
